DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/13/2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-2, 6-10 and 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Someya et al. (US Patent No. 6,300,931).

As to claims 1, 9, 17, 18, Someday discloses an electronic apparatus comprising: a display panel operable to display a display signal (21, Fig. 4); an image information acquisition unit operable to acquire image information in the display signal (22, 23, 24, Fig. 4); a lighting unit (20, Fig. 4) operable to light the display panel; a parameter adjusting unit (118, Fig. 4) operable to adjust a parameter (e.g. adjusting the color of the image data by using different LUTs 28-33, Fig. 4 and adjusting the intensity of the light source) participating in picture quality (e.g. compensating and suppressing the changes of the color tones) in accordance with both a variation in a light amount of the light unit (19) and the acquired image information in the display signal (22, 23, 24); a signal correcting unit (25, 19, Fig. 4) operable to input the display signal and to correct picture quality of the input display signal in accordance with the adjusted parameter (e.g. adjust the color values in the LUT); and a driving unit (17, Fig. 4) to drive the display panel on the basis of a corrected display signal (col. 4, lines 41-49).

As to claims 2, 6, 10 and 14, Someya discloses the parameter includes information used for tone reproduction curve correction or a color gain adjustment (see Figs. 2 and 3).

As to claims 7, 15, Someya discloses that an area used to stored profile information (e.g. LUT, Fig. 1) about a device that has generated the display signal, wherein the signal correcting means corrects the display while taking this profile into account.

As to claims 8, 16, Someya discloses an operating means that accepts operation of a user, and control means for inputting operational information from the operating means (see Fig. 6), when operational information is not input continuously during a fixed time, the control means turns off the lighting means, and with this turn-off (e.g. BLACK state as shown in Fig. 6) as a trigger, cause the parameter adjusting means adjust the parameter participating in picture quality so as to conform al light state.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-5, 11-13 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 11/18/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Someya does not disclose adjusting "a parameter participating in picture quality in accordance with both a variation in a light amount of the light unit and the acquired image information in the display signal” as recited in the newly amended claims 1, 9, 17 and 18. This argument is not persuasive because Someya clearly teach a micro computer 118 for adjusting both a variation in a light amount of the light unit (e.g. high or low intensity) and the acquired image information in display signal (e.g. using different LUTs 28-33). It is believed that the Someya still reads on the newly amended claims.
